New committee will test feasibility Golf course in Wilmington?

by Jeff Nazzaro

A group of 14 Wilmington residents represented by David Traine and Barbara Tobey gained the establishment of a town committee by the board of selectmen to look into the feasibility of constructing a municipal golf course on town owned land off of Salem Street. The group includes Selectmen Jim Rooney and Michael Newhouse, both of whom helped guide Traine through his presentation to the board. The board approved the new committee by a unanimous vote, but a request to immediately appoint the 14 citizens comprising the group was held off on. The committee will be appointed by selectmen at a later date. In addition to the four already mentioned, the group consists of Water and Sewer Commission Chairman Noel Baratta, Al Fiorenza, Dick Hayden, Bob LaVita, state Rep. Jim Miceli, Attorney Robert Peterson, John Ritchie, Mickey Rooney, Police Chief Bobby Stewart, Carolyn Tobey and Carolyn Stanhope. "We as a group would like to see a golf course built for the town," Traine told selectmen. He said the committee would "study the feasibility and desirability of having a course in town" and listed potential benefits as financial (the course would pay for itself and return revenue to the town, he said), environmental, the preservation of open space and the prevention of residential development. For starters, the group is looking at the 92-acre parcel of town-owned land along Salem Street from the Wildcat rail line to the end of McDonald Road. The group is also eyeing the 250-acre, land-locked and privately owned batch of parcels extending north-east from the 92-acre parcel to the Tewksbury line and Interstate 93. Traine said these parcels, owned by "four or five" different people, are valued at $7,500 per acre and that the new committee, named the Municipal Golf Course and Recreation Area Feasibility Study Committee, would look into state and federal grants for open space preservation as a way of buying them. But even the land the town already owns is earmarked for a use other than a golf course. According to Town Manager Michael Caira, the 92 acres were taken in the 1970's to be used expressly for schools. In the late 70's, he said, a town meeting article that would have changed the designated use of the land to "recreation" failed. A successful vote of a similar nature would be required for a golf course to be built. Traine said the new committee may try to get just that at the next town meeting. These efforts could face opposition from groups listing a schools as a priority over a golf course. Selectman Michael McCoy, saying his main priority lay in a new school, warned "if we went for a golf course right now, I guarantee you we'd have 200 parents in here saying what about selling that land for a new school." But Traine said that with close to 350 acres, there would be room for a course and a new school, suggesting that "large revenues" generated by the course could help build a school. "And that [money] could be put into schools, it could be put into anything you want," Traine said. Selectmen Dan Wandell and Robert Cain offered support for forming the committee. Wandell called it "a great thing," while Cain said "certainly people should have the ability to approach town leaders with good ideas, and this is one." Traine said that ideally the entire 350 acres would be obtained and used, with most of the 92 acres maintained for use possibly as a school, and the land behind that used for town ball fields. Beyond that, stretching to I-93, would be the golf course. Traine said a private company would build and manage the course, turning back money to the town. Throughout the meeting, Traine stressed that the proposed committee would just be conducting a feasibility study. "We're just looking into it to see what's there," he said at one point. "All we're going to do is the legwork and see what can fit and what can't fit."

24-hour request from Burger King put on hold

by Jeff Nazzaro

Wilmington selectmen Monday night voted to hold the vote on a request from Deborah Nolan, representing Burger King, to allow the Lowell Street fast food restaurant to remain open 24 hours. Selectman Dan Wandell made the motion to table the vote after a negative recommendation from Police Chief Bobby Stewart was read to selectmen by Town Manager Michael Caira. In his recommendation, Stewart cited several complaints against the restaurant in the nearly two years it has been open and his opinion that 24-hour service would attract patrons from area bars after the bars closed and out-of-towners, which would compromise traffic safety, raise the number of arrests his department makes and cost additional police man hours. Selectmen also heard complaints from two Burger King neighbors. Ellen Durkee, who lives just behind the restaurant on Strout Avenue, said teenagers patronizing the restaurant cut through her yard constantly, sometimes vandalizing her property. She expressed concerns that 24-hour service would increase these problems. But Nolan reassured Durkee that the restaurant would only maintain drive-through service after midnight and that the drive-through would cater only to automobile traffic. Kevin Brennan, who lives with his parents on Lowell Street next to the vacant lot abutting the Burger King property, said his parents were worried that the 24-hour service also would exacerbate problems they are currently experiencing. Those problems, he said, include cars missing the Burger King entrance and using the Brennan driveway as a turnaround and tractor trailer trucks parking on the side of Lowell Street. Like Durkee, Brennan feared these problems would become more of a nuisance in the hours between midnight and 6 a.m., when the restaurant currently is closed. Nolan, with confirmation from Brennan, said the Burger King management has worked very hard in the past to accommodate the Brennan's, including postponing the restaurant's trash pick-up until after Paul Brennan's - Kevin's father - usual wake-up time. "So we've tried very, very hard and I can't believe we wouldn't handle this any less responsibly," Nolan said. But though the neighbors seemed relatively satisfied, Stewart's recommendation had not yet been read. After it was, selectmen, including Michael McCoy, who had already begun to endorse the request, backed off. What followed was a debate over crime and whether or not Burger King - which Nolan said has also been the victim of repeated vandalism - being open 24 hours would increase crime in Wilmington, as Stewart suggested.

Third polling place added

by Jeff Nazzaro

When Wilmington voters take to the polls this fall, among other things, choose between Sen. John Kerry and Gov. William Weld for a seat in the U.S. Senate, one-third of those participating will do so in a different place. Monday night selectmen unanimously approved a proposal from Town Clerk Kay Scanlon to set up a new polling place at the West

Intermediate School. Beginning with the Sept. 17 state primary election, voters from Precincts 1 and 2 will cast ballots at the West Intermediate and not Town Hall, as was the practice before the vote. Precincts 3 and 4 will remain at the Wildwood School and Precincts 5 and 6 will be stationed at the Town Hall. This will not represent a change for voters from Precinct 5, but those from Precinct 6 will be moving from the Wildwood. Scanlon said the shifts were proposed to provide "better facilities for our voters." Scanlon reported that the latest town census shows 20,219 residents, 12,382, or 61 percent of which, are registered voters. She estimated that between 500-700 new voters will register for the November election, bringing the total number of registered voters to around 13,000. "Moving them through two polling places would be almost an impossibility," Scanlon told selectmen, adding that the possibility of losing one of those 13,000 is not one she wishes to entertain. "If we turn away even one voter because they can't find a place to park or can't wait in line, I consider that too many." Scanlon, who reported that 85 percent of Wilmington's voters turned out for the 1994 presidential election, said she foresees as much as 95 percent coming to pick between Kerry and Weld. Only Selectman Michael McCoy voiced any disapproval of the change. McCoy, who has been elected to the board three times now under the former system, suggested that the two polling sites be maintained for local elections and a third added for state or federal decisions. Scanlon countered that such a system would create confusion among voters who would have different polling places for different elections. In the end, McCoy supported the proposal. Scanlon took her opportunity before the board to thank the many town employees and officials who make her job coordinating elections easier, in the process shedding light on the far reaching involvement those elections require. Scanlon thanked her election staff, which numbers between 35-40 persons, her office staff, DPW workers, police officers and firefighters, the public buildings department, maintenance workers and custodians, the school committee, school principals and parents, the town manager and the board of selectmen.

Larry Noel had the honor of placing the wreath at Robert Parent's Memorial at the old town hall on Middlesex Ave. Veterans, active military personnel, families and friends made the rounds to rededicate each of the memorials around Wilmington on Sunday, prior to the Memorial Day celebration.

Solectria sets new record

Solectria Corporation of Wilmington announced last week that the Solectria Sunrise electric sedan powered by Ovonic Nickel-Metal Hydride batteries set a new electric vehicle range record by completing 373.6 miles on a single charge in the third day of racing in the 1996 NESEA American Tour de Sol, the national solar and electric vehicle (EV) championship.

"This success proves to the world that clean zero emission vehicles can provide range and performance comparable to or better than that of a typical gas car," commented 28-year-old Solectria CEO James Worden, who drove the Sunrise during the race.

The Sunrise, entered in the race by the Northeast Alternative Vehicle Consortium, the Boston Edison Company and Solectria, completed 258 miles May 14 on a single charge during day two of the event. The new record represents a 50 percent improvement over last year's record breaking run of 238 miles. A total of six electric vehicles produced by the Industrial Way company competed in this the eighth annual running of the road rally, which began in New York City on May 12 and ended in Washington, D.C. May 16.

This race marks the second public competition of the Solectria Sunrise, a full-size, four passenger, all-composite sedan designed with the latest advances in aerodynamics, material science, and Ovonic Nickel-Metal Hydride (NiMH) battery technology. Funding for the Sunrise Project, an ongoing effort to provide efficient, safe and affordable high-performance EVs to the marketplace, has been coordinated by the Boston-based NAVC, with co-funding by the Defense Advanced Research Projects Agency, Boston Edison and other corporate partners.

A Solectria Force NiMH sedan entered the race and likewise turned in a superb performance, traveling 224 miles today on a single charge in mixed city/highway driving, edging out a Ford Ecostar which completed 227 miles. The Force NiMH also claimed the first pole position at the beginning of the race by winning an acceleration trial, beating the Ford EV, which placed second.

The Force NiMH sedan is the first commercially available EV equipped with the state-of-the-art NiMH batteries.

"Just a few years ago, production EVs with a range over 100 miles were unheard of," stated Mark Dockser, vice presidents of planning and business development for Solectria. "Today, we are delivering these high-performance, long-range vehicles to customers throughout the United States, in Europe, and in Asia."

But while it appears electric vehicle technology has arrived in Force (and Sunrise), the price of an EV still exceeds the budget of the average car buyer. The Solectria Force lists at $33,995 with lead acid batteries, $74,495 with the NiMH technology.

$30,000 stolen from Industrial Way firm

by Karen Whalley
A tractor trailer truck, holding $30,000 worth of merchandise, vanished from Industrial Way in Wilmington over the weekend. The truck disappeared from Lightolier, a manufacturer of fluorescent lights and fixtures. The company only discovered the truck missing early Tuesday morning.

According to Deputy Police Chief Bernard Nally, the trailer portion of the truck was loaded, and the thief, or thieves, walked onto Lightolier's lot and drove off with the truck, unnoticed by anyone.

Nally said police have no leads but the incident is still under investigation. No reported sightings of the truck have been filed.

The truck is described in police reports as a Fruehauf truck, Maine registration number 119068. The words "Eagle Leasing Company" are written on the side.

Said Nally, "All of these companies park, in the parking lot, just load up and go. Someone could've taken the truck during normal business hours."

Thieves net $1,100 in Shawsheen Ave break

by Karen Whalley
Thieves pried their way into 129 Food Mart early Sunday morning and stole over $1,100 worth of merchandise.

According to police reports on Sunday, May 26, the cash register containing $100 was stolen along with several cartons of cigarettes and lottery scratch tickets. Deputy police chief Bernard Nally said it is "very possible" that this theft is tied to the two thefts at Village Apothecary, located on Lowell Street, on May 5 and 17.

Unlike the robbery at Village Apothecary, this theft was not of the smash and grab variety. According to Nally, the suspects forced their way into the store and did not break down the front door.

A similar attempt was made that same night to enter Elia's Country Store on Middlesex Avenue, but thieves failed in their attempt to gain access to the store.

An empty cash register, which police assume belongs to 129 Food Mart, was found later in the day on Grace Drive.

Police have no leads yet, but the robberies at Village Apothecary and 129 Food Mart are still under investigation.

INHERITED PROPERTY - A BONUS!

Did Aunt Ethel leave you 100 shares of telephone stock in her will, or the silver tea service you always coveted? As if it weren't nice enough to find a bequest in your lap, there's also a tax bonus built in.

Should you care to sell the bounty, you'll find little or no tax due. That's because the basis for the shares or the tea set is its worth at the previous owner's death. The appreciation in value up to that time - which may be considerable if Aunt Ethel were sitting on the stock for many years - is forgiven. No tax is due on the capital gain up to that time. Any appreciation after you've received the bequest, of course, is a taxable gain.

For widows or widowers who owned property jointly with a spouse, the tax owed depends on the state. In community-property states, you can use the stepped-up basis on the full value. In other states, only half the property gets the stepped-up basis.

Questions about what's taxable and what isn't? We've got the answers at

It's more than a matter of money

by Stu Neilson

Wilmington made the traffic reports on Thursday, again. The tie up was not on Route 93, but on Route 62 near Route 93. It was at the intersection of Woburn Street and Salem Street. It was right in front of the Harnden Tavern.

Every day people put their lives on the line to get across that intersection. Drivers coming from Wilmington or Route 93 travel through at 50 m.p.h. or more, though the speed limit is 35. Traffic coming from North Reading is usually just a little slower, say 45, only 10 miles per hour over the limit.

The usual scenario is a car trying to scoot across gets clobbered by another car because the driver of the car trying to cross Route 62 can't keep track of all the cars coming and turning from either side. Thursday was different. A local young man, John Conley, was on a motorcycle heading towards North Reading when a car headed towards Andover popped in front of him. He was unable to avoid slamming into the side of that car. He was airlifted to Boston City Hospital in Boston. He had additional brain surgery on Saturday. Today (Wednesday afternoon) he still in intensive care.

A traffic light costs $100,000.

His medical expenses will probably exceed that.

You do the math.

Is it only a matter of money — or maybe we're talking about a human life here!

Rep. Miceli announces survey results

State Rep. Jim Miceli last week announced the results of his annual poll, conducted at annual town meetings in Tewksbury and Wilmington of voters from the 20th Middlesex district.

The results show that 65 percent of those polled in Wilmington and 63 percent in Tewksbury favor "doctor assisted suicide", while 73 percent of Wilmington voters asked and 60 percent of those polled in Tewksbury favor the death penalty.

Sixty percent of voters polled in both towns feel county government should be abolished while 82 percent in both towns said that if casino gambling is legalized the tax revenues should be earmarked for specific programs.

Voters asked in both towns said they were against both the school choice and charter school programs. In Wilmington, 71 percent said no to school choice, while in Tewksbury the figure stands at 60 percent. For charter schools, 59 percent registered opposed in Wilmington and 50 percent (45 percent in favor, 5 percent undecided) were against the program.

Miceli would like to thank all those who participated for their input and has stated that in addition to the poll itself, there is much to be learned by the written comments offered. The representative said he feels this information will be valuable when he is faced with difficult decisions of how to vote.

Rep. Miceli survey results

1. Are you in favor of "doctor assisted suicide" legislation?

	Yes	No	Undecided
Wilmington	65%	27%	8%
Tewksbury	63%	31%	6%

2. Are you in favor of the death penalty?

Wilmington	73%	25%	2%

Olin Chemical closes

Olin Chemical Corporation of Eames Street announced that it would close the facility; a procedure that would probably take until September 1.

Officer Larry Redding was pictured as he prepared to demonstrate a Benelli semi automatic shotgun at the Wilmington Rotary meeting. Officer Redding was the firearms instructor for the Special Operations Unit.

As part of the same program, Officer Chris Neville demonstrated the body bunker, a large bullet shield that also had an intimidation factor.

Peter Reinhart of Middlesex

Avenue, Mark Melanson of Kendall Street, Donna Mills of Woburn Street and Lynn Hagan of Hobson Avenue were among those who earned degrees from Merrimack College.

Cub Scouts of Pack 136 were at the Boy Scout Show with a puppet theatre. Pictured were Chris Crowell of Den 1 and Greg and Kevin LaVasseur of Den 3.

Sheri Sencabaugh of Harold Avenue was the unanimous choice of the social studies department of Middlesex Community College to receive its Excellence Award for outstanding achievement in psychology, sociology, history and economics.

Letters to the editor

'Power People' want golf course

Dear Larz:

In April of this year I made a suggestion to the Town of Wilmington concerning school overcrowding and a means of financing the schools' future needs.

I suggested developing the 92 acres on Salem Street that the Town purchased for the "Construction of a public school or schools thereon." I suggested that the developer build a 10 room school for the Town; this is in concert with the specific purpose of the acquisition. Any deviation from that purpose I feel will result in a recovery suit by the original owners or their heirs.

But now the "Power People" want to build a golf course on the property; talk about short changing the school system; talk about duping those "concerned parents" who show up at the meetings where they are told of "portable classrooms." Those concerned parents and every other parent, grandparent and taxpayer should be aware that they are going to be asked to finance a golf course instead of a school building program (Remember the Garden of Eden [failed Golf Course off Chestnut Street - ed.]).

I recently had access to the preliminary plan [for the property on Salem St - ed.] by Saki and Gurino that was authorized by the 1972 Town Meeting. Certain facts are apparent: 42 acres are buildable, that 75 percent of the water flows to the Shawheen River through a 60 inch culvert beneath South Street; 25 percent flows easterly into Lubbers Brook, that a four foot drop (drain) of the water storage area will make more viable land available (28 acres). The study was done before the 15 inch sewer pipe was laid; the presence of this pipe makes more land available by just being there. I am also sure that the ground water now flows in the trench in which the 15 inch sewer pipe was laid - This is valuable land!

Remember also that the town owns 42 acres adjacent to this property and amazingly the Town of Tewksbury wants access through the property to open up Rocco's dump with access to Route 125.

Was the golf course planned with prior knowledge or are the "Power People" trying to undermine the needed school development program?

I hope that the "concerned parents" work for the school system - if not sign up for Golf 1, the tee shot.

Gerry O'Reilly

P.S. To quote from my suggestion: "Remember also that somebody probably covets that property now and in the future, but as always said, the future is now."

It's disgusting and so are you

Dear Larz:

This is an open letter to the slob who use Phillips Ave as a dump.

What is wrong with you people? Most of the stuff there would be picked up by our own trash collectors.

Why are you further contaminating Lubbers Brook, which people have worked so hard to clean up? What message are you sending to your kids and others - that dumping anywhere you can't be seen you get away with a crime? Yes, a crime!

You're hurting the drivers of the area and the wildlife. Some of that stuff could have been brought to the recycle center. The bags of clothes could have been brought to the Salvation Army. If you lugged them to Phillips to dump them why couldn't you go the extra and do it properly?

It's disgusting and so are you, you slob who did it!

Name withheld by request

Thank you, TMHS teachers

Dear Larz:

We would like to take this opportunity to offer our thanks to the teachers at Tewksbury Memorial High School who have spent countless hours in the last couple of months writing recommendation letters on behalf of the members of the senior class to colleges and in support of scholarships.

While it could be argued that this is "part of their job," the time necessary to write a personalized, thoughtful and caring letter about a student is not a five minute project. The mental picture that these teachers convey in their letters can mean the difference between being accepted or rejected by the college of one's choice.

We would like to especially thank Judith Berube, Steven Levine and Elisabeth Gaffney for their time and thoughtfulness on behalf of our son, but we also want to acknowledge the good job that the teachers at the high school do on behalf of students both in and out of the classroom.

May you all enjoy a well deserved summer vacation!

Sincerely,
Mr. & Mrs. William Sullivan

Power to the students

Dear Larz:

I would just like to point out that as of last week, the Tewksbury School Committee decided to reverse its decision on the starting and ending times of the school.

This is the second time that they've done this in less than a year. Effective next year, the starting and ending times will return to what they once were last year.

The funny thing about this whole situation, is the fact that around this time last year, Chris Zani and I stood up to the school committee with a petition signed by the students of the school, asking them not to change the times, because even though it would save the town money, it would create more problems than it was worth.

So here we are a year later, and the school committee has changed their minds again; now they're planning on changing the times back, and just redistricting some of the students to different schools.

Maybe the school committee should realize that we were right in the first place. Maybe also they should listen more to the people that know more about the school than they do - the students of the school.

Tech twins take top titles

by Jeff Nazzaro

When Shawsheen Tech graduates its 222 Class of 1996 members on the school's football field June 6, those who don't know might find themselves guilty of a double take during the student speeches segment.

Meet valedictorian Bonnie Milnes, a cosmetology specialist from Tewksbury. Now meet salutatorian Sherry Milnes, also a specialist in cosmetology, also from Tewksbury.

They are identical twins, with near identical grade point averages. And while it may be difficult to distinguish between the two under their purple graduation caps, they are two individuals who happen to have spent their entire lives together. And, with slightly different routes in store, Bonnie and Sherry plan on uniting in business together after graduation.

"Eventually one day we want to open our own shop," said Bonnie.

For now, the twins work at Salon Vergados in Lowell, where Bonnie will begin full-time after commencement. Sherry, on the other hand, will work part-time while pursuing an associate's degree in small business management from Middlesex Community College.

The Milnes' closeness, coupled with their like career goals, is allowing them the unique opportunity of pursuing a college education and gaining that invaluable work experience at the same time, on a continual basis. It is like a co-op plan only instead of switching off, they can, for all intents and purposes, be in two places at one time. They can go to school full-time, work full-time and still get some sleep.

"Working [at the salon] I see a lot, I learn a lot - everything I need to know about the business," Bonnie said. "And in college, Sherry's going to learn all the math, the accounting. ..."

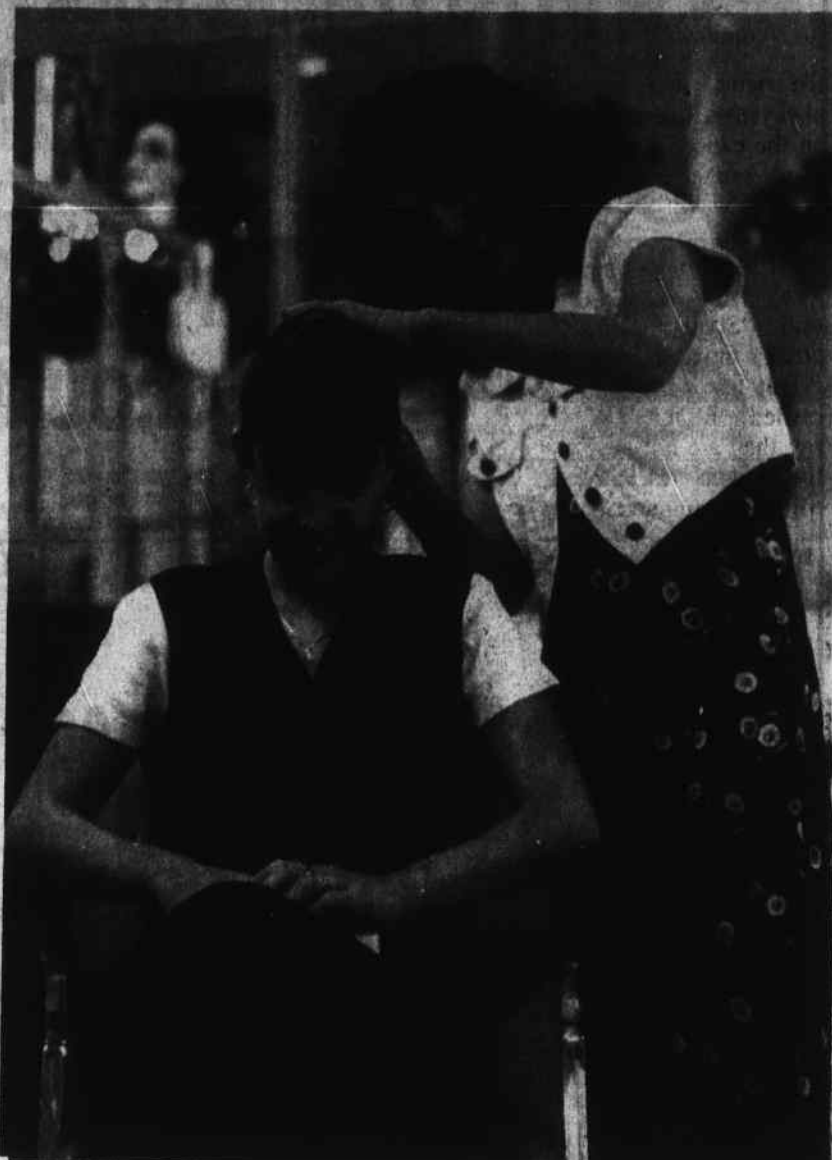

And both are happy with their respective decisions and supportive of the other's.

For Bonnie, she decided she's had enough of the school life. "I'm done with school," she said. "I've worked hard for 12 years." Sherry, while admitting in a way she'd like to be saying the same thing, is looking forward to learning the numbers end of running a small business and may transfer to UMass Lowell after her two years at Middlesex are done.

"I want to be able to run my own business," Sherry said. "You can't go into a business and think, well, I know everything."

And the time apart, which for

... the roles are reversed. Bonnie and Sherry are cosmetologists graduating 1 and 2 from their Shawsheen Tech class (photos by Jeff Nazzaro).

Bonnie & Sherry Milnes sharing goals and honors

the twins, who have of course always lived together, always taken the exact same classes and always worked similar hours at the same jobs, will be a good thing in a way too.

"It's good to have some time away from each other," Sherry said. "Sometimes we get at each other's throats."

But not where school is concerned. Bonnie and Sherry both say they are not competitive. Let the record reflect that Bonnie Milnes completed her four years at Shawsheen Tech earning a high school diploma, a certificate of vocational proficiency in cosmetology and a 3.8892 grade point average. Sherry earned the diploma, certificate and a 3.8860 average. Just three-thousandths of a point separate them. But Sherry will point out that she is four minutes older and an inch taller than her "younger" sister.

Sherry, in fact, was the number one student in her class at Shawsheen freshman and sophomore years, a distinction Bonnie assumed ed the last two years.

"When she was number one, I was number two and then we just switched roles," Bonnie said. "But she's proud of me and I'm proud of her."

And their teachers and guidance counselors are proud of them both.

Guidance counselor Dan Trainor called Bonnie and Sherry "solid, positive role models in and out of the classroom. They bring a real positive atmosphere and approach to everything they do," he said.

In her 14 years at Shawsheen Tech, lead cosmetology teacher Phyllis Mario has taught hundreds of students her trade. But she places Bonnie and Sherry at the top of that class.

"They've probably been the best students I've ever had," she stated. "They're wonderful girls. They will definitely do very well in this business because they are very talented. They've been an inspiration for me, for Shawsheen. It kind of makes teaching a wonderful experience."

Being a twin, the Milnes' will tell you, can be also be a wonderful experience - but not always.

"You kind of lose your identity," Sherry pointed out. "It's never 'Bonnie and Sherry,' it's always 'The Twins'."

It wasn't until the fourth grade that they started dressing differently. When they were in seventh grade they moved to Tewksbury and for high school entered the tech. As sophomores, now interested in hair dressing, their identities began to emerge.

Today, Sherry, the more outgoing of the two, wears her hair long with loose, dyed-black curls. Bonnie generally wears her's up, with reddish-blond highlights amidst her natural brown color.

But even though the different hair styles make them easy to tell apart, they still get confused, something that has become as everyday as waking up, as commonplace as being asked if they "play pranks on their boyfriends" (they don't).

"You get mistaken a lot but you get used to it," said Sherry, who added that if someone calls out "Bonnie" in a crowded hallway at school, she instinctively turns to look. "I'm so used to being called [Bonnie], it's like a second name," she said.

But with the confusion comes a constant companion. "You always have someone there with you," Bonnie said, to which Sherry added "You're never lonely."

For graduation, they'll be together, as usual, one the other's biggest fan.

"We've always been so close. We've always just been happy for each other."

Senior topics

It is hoped that everyone enjoyed the Memorial Day Parade this past Monday. A note of thanks is extended to all those who worked on the senior citizen float with special thanks to Larry and Sue Gilbert (D.J. America) for providing the seniors with music to march by and Jan and Arnie Martell who have provided the flatbed vehicle each year. Also, a special note of thanks is extended to the Town Patriotic Activities Committee for another job well done; and of course, for helping to keep patriotism alive in Tewksbury! Their efforts are very much appreciated.

Those Tewksbury residents who would like to register for the June Share package may do so on the following dates: Saturday, June 1 from 10 a.m. to noon and on Tuesday, June 4 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. and from 7 to 9 p.m. For those who would like to know more about Share and how to stretch your food dollars, you may call the Senior Center at 640-4470 or Mary Ann Wareham at 851-3344. Big Steps for Little People raised $130,000

As temperatures hit the 90's, Scott Bradley (left) and Matt MacEachern of Wilmington stopped to cool off before making their way around Horn Pond in Winchester Hospital's "Big Steps for Little People" Walk-a-thon held May 19.

More than 1,000 walkers donned their sneakers Sunday, May 19 to take part in Winchester Hospital's 4th annual "Big Steps for Little People" Walk-a-thon. With more than $130,000 raised to benefit Maternal and Child Services: Childbirth Center, Special Care Nursery and Pediatrics, this year's Walk participants went all out to make the day a success.

There were colorful t-shirts and balloons streaming overhead as Channel 5 sportscaster Mike Lynch, kicked off the event. Hundreds of walkers filled the streets of Winchester and into Woburn, many of whom were families, friends and neighbors of children who spent time in Winchester Hospital's Special Care Nursery. Proudly following brightly colored strollers, people also walked in honor of a special child of their own.

The Walk-a-thon ended in downtown Winchester with a festive celebration in which walkers enjoyed refreshments and entertainment provided by the Winchester Chamber of Commerce downtown merchants. Special thanks go to Salter Healthcare Services, Bonnell Ford, and the Friends of Winchester Hospital, this year's major sponsors.

LIFE INSURANCE FOR WIDOWS

QUESTION: I am a 37 year old widow with 2 children, 9 and 7. Should a widow have life insurance?

ANSWER: You should have life insurance, unless you have adequate resources carefully set aside for the care and upbringing of your children. Social Security benefits may not be enough to provide the lifestyle and education you would want for them.

Most widows with young children, therefore, include life insurance in the family budget at least until the children are past school age. In this way, you can guarantee that the benefits will go to the guardian or the persons you designate and you can specify how the money will be spent.

IT MAKES SENSE for a widow with children to carry some life insurance.

Chairman Jim Rooney, a police sergeant in town, said he shared his chief's concerns and that the board should consider the neighbors in this "residential area."

"If they'll vandalize your property," he told Nolan, "they'll vandalize other properties. This puts a burden on the police department."

But Nolan said she wants police to make the restaurant a regular part of their beat, even offering to buy the coffee. In a statement that brought hearty chuckles from board members and audience alike, Nolan told Rooney "I don't know if this is the place to say it but - the coffee's on us."

Rooney deadpanned back: "Do you know we have four Dunkin' Donuts in town?"

The unanimous vote to table was then made. Wandell said he made the motion because it was not sure if Stewart was aware that only the restaurant's drive-through would remain open after midnight.

After Stewart is consulted, selectmen will take up the issue again.

In the meantime, Rooney said, jokingly (or not) speaking for the police department, "We'll be down for coffee."

Thanks, Kiwanis

We thank the Kiwanis Club for a very enjoyable evening last Monday. With the help of Commissioners Henry Latta and Marilyn McCarthy, the staff, senior volunteers Frank and Martha Ratto, Joe McCarthy, Marguerite Cavanaugh, Marjorie Walsh, Tom Cunningham and many Kiwanis members 52 of our shutin seniors, many in wheelchairs, on walkers and canes, several blind and others in their late 90s, were transported to Knights of Columbus Hall. Here they enjoyed a delicious chicken dinner with all the trimmings, while being entertained by our dance team performers, under the leadership of their dance instructor Marguerite Cavanaugh. They performed an array of line dances going from the polka, waltz, fox trot and others. Their performance was superb.

The shutins were returned by their escorts from their night out, a little tired but very grateful to the Kiwanis Club for inviting them.

Spirit of Boston

The Spirit of Boston social will be held Friday, June 7. The buses will be leaving the Senior Center around 10:15. Please be at the center by 10 a.m. There will be four buses backing into the parking area. That will be very difficult for the bus drivers. Do not park any cars in the parking area, near the building or along the hill side. Cars can be parked behind the building or along the fence. Do not park on the side of the street or your car will be towed away. You can park in the Swain School parking area. When you arrive at the center do not stay outside, enter the building to receive your ticket. Remain in the center until all the buses are in the area and parked. We do not want any accidents. Accidents do not happen, they are caused. We should be back at the Center around 4 p.m.

Again, if you are being picked up by a family member or friend, tell them to wait for you at the Swain School parking lot. The buses, when they return will have to back into our area again to unload. If you have a car in the back of the Center do not drive it from the area until buses have been unloaded and have left the area. Seniors could be walking behind a bus and you would not see them. We have a very long waiting list; if you find you will not be able to attend, call the center as soon as possible. Do not tell another senior they can take your ticket. We replace the cancellations as they come in from the top of the waiting list down. The money you paid for the social was only a stipend of the cost. The larger part is paid through the department budget.

Lions Club

The Lions Club will be donating the June catered shutin dinner on Friday, June 14. From the latest list of seniors in Wilmington we received from Town Clerk Kay Scanlon, we have many more seniors than we had last year. Reviewing the list we realize we may have seniors on that list who are shutins. We will be contacting as many new seniors on the list throughout the year. But that will take time. If you are a new resident confined to your home most of the time due to illness or advanced age, or a senior who has lived in Wilmington for many years, but with the passing of years are now confined to a house most of the time, call the Senior Center at 657-7595 or 658-2258 and let us add your name to our new list, that we are putting together now. 100 meals will be delivered to shutins on June 14.

If you would like to bring a little happiness into the lives of these seniors by delivering about 30 meals, please let us know. With 100 meals we will need at least 30 volunteer drivers.

Wilmington Softball team will open state tournament on Saturday

by James Pote

Though it was not verified by the M.I.A.A., the Town Crier has learned that the Wilmington High School girls softball team will open the state tournament with a bye and play the winner of the Winchester-Lynn Classical on Saturday, June 1 at the Wilmington High School field.

The time of the game has not been announced as of yet. Wilmington was seeded second when they finished the season 17-3 overall which included a 7-6 extra inning affair with Lawrence on Tuesday afternoon. Lawrence though beat Wilmington 2-1 in a thriller held on Friday night under the lights at the Town Park.

Head coach Paul Lyman said he didn't hear of anything as of Tuesday evening if his team is playing the winner of Lynn Classical and Winchester. But Lyman does know that if that is the case he knows that both of those teams have pretty good pitchers. And he knows his team's success will start from his own pitchers, Amy Surran and Kelly Landers.

"If our game is on Saturday, I don't know as of yet who will start. We will go with both of them like we have done all season. But our success will come from consistent pitching, good defense and we have to have the people who are expected to hit, to hit," Lyman said.

Baseball team going through the motions?

by James Pote

Dick Scanlon stood along a chain link fence talking to reporters after his team lost 13-8 to Bedford on Tuesday afternoon. He just witnessed one of the ugliest high school baseball games to date which knocked his team out of any state tournament action.

And he along with the reporters were trying to figure out how this happened. Much like the Red Sox this year, their success depends upon which team shows up. That scenario was perfectly demonstrated this past weekend.

Scanlon was asked a very difficult question. How come his team beat Reading, the number one team in Division II on Saturday to come back on Sunday and Monday as an entirely different team - a non enthusiastic squad that looked as if they never played together before and sounded as if they were in a Church praying for a win instead of earning one?

And how could a team who played nearly perfect baseball on Saturday, come back on Sunday and Monday with one more win to clinch a state tournament birth for the first time in three years, commit eight combined errors and lose to Malden Catholic 7-0 and to Bedford 13-8 in what seemed like two effortless games? Scanlon said he wish he could answer that.

Then Scanlon was asked, if these two last games were a reflection upon himself.

"I don't play the game - they do," Scanlon stated. "These last two games were absolutely terrible. They didn't come to play. I really thought they went through the motions today. I don't understand what else could get them going other than having to win this game to go to the state tournament. Normally you would have to quiet a team down - but here you had to get them going.

"If you saw the Reading game and then you saw these last two games, then you would see two totally different teams. We dug ourselves a hole at the start of the season. We started to play a lot better winning six out of eight. And then we beat Reading and play these two terrible

Boys tennis to play Thursday

by James Pote

For the first time since the last 80's, the Wilmington High School boys tennis team with its two seniors, qualified for the state tournament with its 8-8 record. Their first game of the tourney will be Thursday, May 30 at Concord-Carlisle (preliminary round they are seeded 13 while Wilmington was seeded 20) at 3:30.

The team took four victories this past week to accomplish their goal from the start of the season.

"I'm really happy for the kids - they worked very hard for this. We are excited but we know we will have to play near perfect tennis to be successful in the tournament. We will probably face one of the undefeated teams since we slid in - but we made it," said head coach Mike Tammaro.

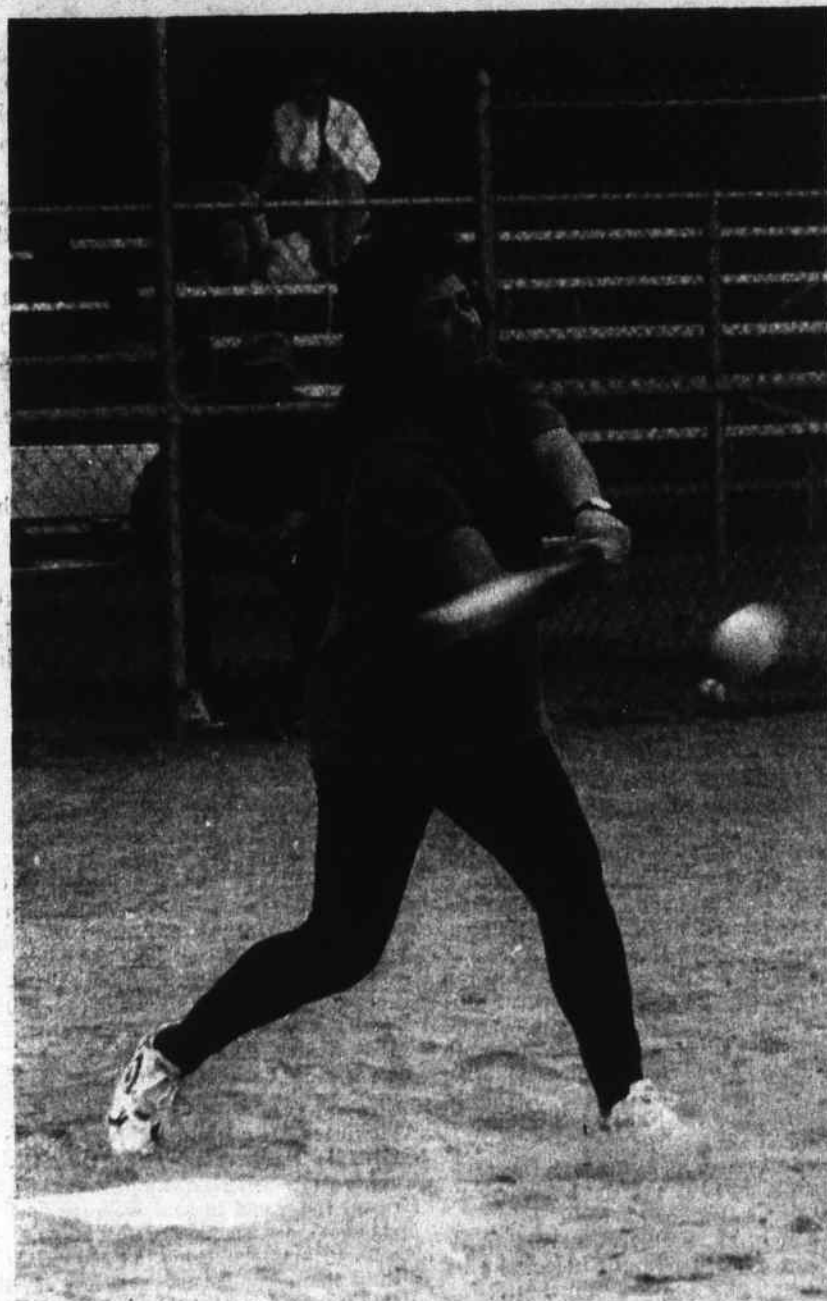

After beating Masconomet, Lawrence and Hamilton-Wenham on three consecutive days last week, the Cats took a day off on Thursday before losing a close one to Manchester on Friday. Their record was 7-8 with one final match to be

A great week in sports and better ones coming

by James Pote

Once again the state tournament is about to begin and once again great high school sports were demonstrated over this past week so I decided to share some thoughts of what has happened and what could happen.

After getting out of work last Wednesday, I decided instead of going home to catch up a few hours of sleep, I would take a trip down to Tewksbury High School to catch the big boys and girls meet against Andover. I tell you, watching Tewksbury Track is really undescrivable. The stands were filled with people supporting the student-athletes during the hot day where the athletes could have easily taken a trip to Hampton Beach instead of giving everything they possibly had in some treacherous events. And having the support, I really believe makes a huge difference. Don't get me wrong, the Wilmington tracksters put in the same 110 percent effort everytime, but they probably haven't had the combined total of fans Tewksbury has in all of their meets than the Red and Blue had in their lone meet last week.

In the Tewksbury meet, there were so many incredible finishes. Whether it was a race that took over ten minutes to decide who won because it was so close, or it was the extra efforts by Nicole LeBoeuf in the hurdles edging out a tough Andover runner or Jason O'Connor leaving a trail of dust for his opponent down the final stretch in the 200, that made this day an incredible experience to be a part of. Those who witnessed this meet last week, know exactly what I'm talking about. Those who missed it, believe me, you missed a dandy.

On Sunday I took a trip back down to Aprile Field to watch more softball in the annual Wilmington High School Battle of the Classes Softball Tournament. My class lost in the first round on Saturday, so I decided to take a trip down to see how the other classes were doing. When I arrived, the first Home Run Derby contest was held and that was something. After Joe Viera knocked two out, Tim Moran cranked four himself ... until his older brother Teddy got up. Teddy with the prettiest swing I have ever seen (Bobby Butters and Mike King are close) took home the family bragging rights with seven homer runs including one that would have easily hit the side of the RT. 38 bridge if trees were not in the way. That was worth making the trip.

As the high school school season is about to come to an end and the state tournament about to begin, these next few weeks should continue the trend of memorable weeks of sports. I know I said the same thing this past winter when the hockey and basketball teams went into the state tournament, and for the most part did I let anyone down?

In Wilmington, the girls softball team will be looking to capture their third state title in the past four years and they have a chance to do that since they are expected to be seeded either first or second. Dracut and Stoneham are still the tougher teams in the North even though they have some losses, but Case is still the team to beat in the South.

The Wilmington Boys Tennis team will be making their first tourney appearance since the late eighties and one may never know what can happen in tennis.

The Tewksbury baseball team has had an outstanding season to date including having three different pitchers throw three no-hitters this year. They finished the regular season at 15-5 overall and they will open up against Lynn Classical on Saturday at 2:00 at Strong Field at TMHS. They could also cause a lot of havoc to teams, if they continue their impressive pitching and defense, solid hitting and aggressive base running.

Hopefully I just didn't open the jinx gate to any of these teams trying to bring home the trophies, but these next few weeks should be a lot of fun. And if you missed the Tewksbury Track Meet, you won't want to miss these other teams in state tournament play, while the weather is near perfect.

Local athletes honored at U. Lowell

The annual U. Mass Lowell Student-Athlete Excellence Award Banquet was held on May 3 and many current Wilmington and Tewksbury residents were honored when they recieved varsity letters in their respective sport.

In Wilmington, Mike Alonardo (second letter in baseball), Dennis Lee (second letter in football), Steve O'Neil (first letter in football) and Randy Johnson (third varsity letter in football) all were honored for their efforts in the River Hawks program.

As for Tewksbury, Mike Hession (first letter in athletic training), David Perry (third letter in athletic training), Leigh-Ann Fowler (third letter in softball), Elyce Botto (second letter in track and field), Lauren Andriolo (fourth letter in track and field), Heather Ferrand (second letter in cross country and track), Larry Rodgers (second letter in baseball), Jay Mackey (first letter in football), Tammie Brooks (fourth letter in cross country and track), Chris Cullinan (second letter in baseball), Kevin Andriolo (first letter in cross country and track), Brian Coyle (first letter in boys soccer), Dana Boudreau (fourth letter in football), Dan Clark (first letter in track and field), Joe Dunn (first letter in track and field), Tom Keating (second letter in track and field), Erin Livingston (third letter in women's crew), Kim Ferrand (first letter in cross country), Heidi Murphy (second letter in women's crew) and finally Carrie Dwan (third letter in women's crew) were all honored for their efforts, too.

Wilmington boys track takes eleventh

by James Pote

Other than a few good finishes, Bob Cripps said he wasn't all that thrilled with the Wilmington Boys and Girls Outdoor Track teams in their Class D Meet held this past Saturday. The boys took home eleventh place overall out of 30 teams.

He said for the boys team he expected to take firsts in the mile relay and in the quarter-mile run.

And that happened. Greg Young took his personal best in the latter at 48.5 seconds, while the team of Tim Peterson, Kevin Kacamburas, Chris Kilburn and Young took the mile relay at 3:31.3.

As for the girls, Laura Winn was the lone athlete to place as she took a sixth in the 330 intermediate hurdles at 48.3.

On Saturday morning, Wilmington faced off against Reading with the task of winning two of their last three games to enter the state tournament for the first time in three years in the annual Wilmington Tournament.

Billy Harrison got his first start on the mound and he went four innings plus, pitching magnificent ball with a great defense behind him. PJ Heffernan closed out the game and Wilmington showed their talents by beating the one of the better teams in the entire state.

"That was a great game. We played fabulous," Scanlon said before the Tuesday afternoon game.

With the win on Saturday, Wilmington now met up with Malden Catholic for the Championship game. Ryan Rappoli got the nod and he pitched a lot better than what his stats said. He went the distance giving up seven runs, four earned on eight hits with seven walks and he struck out four.

"Not to take anything away from [MC pitcher Tommy] LaPointe who I thought pitched a great game, we just played terrible baseball. Ryan pitched a lot better than what it seemed - he just didn't get any help," Scanlon said.

Wilmington had just five hits in the game and two of those came in the last inning. The Wilmington defense committed four errors on Monday and then an additional four on Tuesday.

And speaking of Tuesday and ugly games, the second loss to Bedford was a wild one to say the least. Bedford struck for four runs in the first two innings on two errors, two hits, a wild pitch, four stolen bases a hits batsmen and four walks. Billy Harrison (3-4, three RBIs) singled home Rich Gillis in the bottom of the third to make it a 4-1 ball game.

Bedford struck for single runs in the fourth and fifth innings and Wilmington scored one of their own in the bottom of the fifth to make it 6-2 to set up the monster sixth inning for both sides.

Bedford had runners at first and second and no one out and Scanlon then removed starter Scott Swiezynski who showed he was dead tired (five innings, five hits, eight walks) for P.J. Heffernan. Heffernan didn't fare to well as Bedford hit him pretty hard with eight of the nine batters he faced getting on base as they scored seven runs in the inning to make it 13-2 - Harrison came on for the final inning plus.

But Wilmington put a rally going in the bottom of the sixth inning. After an out, Peter Grasso singled. Chris DiJulia singled. Rich Gillis singled to load the bases. Phil Bates singled to drive home Grasso. Eric Clancy kept the inning alive with an RBI single, before Billy Harrison came close to hitting a grand slam with a two-run double in the left-center gap. Sean Kerrigan followed with a two-run double to close out the six-run inning at 13-8.

That was the final as Bedford held on to win the game that had 21 runs, 21 hits, ten errors and a wind that drove many outfielders berserk trying to figure out where the ball was going as soon as it went up in the air.

their third Division II State Title in the past four years.

"Our schedule didn't help us at all. What we have played during the season were not be the kind of teams who we will be facing in the tournament. Lawrence was 6-10 in the MVC and we struggled to beat them today after we lost to them the other day. So now the girls have to realize that they have to play at a higher level now," Lyman said.

Lyman said everyone is healthy which includes second baseman Catherine Townsend who sat out Friday's game after colliding with shortstop Leanne Harris on a blooper during Wednesday's win over Hamilton-Wenham.

Several of the players on this year's squad already knows what it takes to win in the state tournament. Right now the team has an eleven game winning streak in the state tournament and players like Leanne Harris, Nicole Dussault and Lisa Southmayd have a lot of minutes of state tourney action which will be a big boost to the team. Julie Gillis, Jill Lojek, Melissa Palermo, Kelly Landers and Amy Surran were extras on the team when they won it all and having the back will also help the younger players.

If the team does go deep into the tournament, teams like Dracut and Stoneham will be the front runners experience wise, while, Lincoln-Sudbury, Greater Lowell and East Boston will be the other top seeds the Cats might face later on down the line.

Like Lyman stated earlier, if the team wants to go deep into the tourney, it has to be a complete team effort starting with the pitching. Surran and Landers finished the season combined at 15-3 with Townsend also notching two victories herself as the team's third pitcher.

Thereafter they have to get the base runners on to continue their aggressive base running style. The big hitters have to hit and the speedy players have to steal and take the extra bases.

Other than that, it will be show-time starting this Saturday.

Girls under 10A Soccer team in playoffs

The Wilmington Girls U10A Youth Soccer Team recently continued its drive for the playoffs with a victory and a tie.

The girls took on a rough Woburn team in a driving rain and came on top 3-2. Leading the scoring was Lauren MacDonald with the game winner, Lauren Rappolli and Rachelle See. Playing strong for the Wildcats on defense were Allison Flynn, Kara Bruce and Katie Riley. On offense Shannon Fahey provided good play.

In a rematch against Waltham the final score was scoreless but that didn't indicate the level of this game as both teams came to play. Leading Wilmington on the field were Jackie Rideout, Jackie Spry, Ashley Steenbruggen and Caitlin McNabb.

Finally the girls met first place Billerica and jumped out to an early lead and held in for the first half. In the second half Billerica took over as the Wildcats play dropped off and lost the game 5-1. In this game Lauren Cushing and Lauren Rappolli were steady players for the team.

Federal protection for my pool cover?

by Bill Conlon

You don't need to travel very far to find wildlife. It's everywhere.

My latest discovery came when I went to pump the water out of my mother's swimming pool cover, to prepare the pool for service. I'm guaranteed to find something alive in the pool cover, every year.

Most of the time it's water insects, such as Water Boatmen with their legs that look like boat oars, and a few mosquito "wrigglers." Perhaps the top of the temporary pond has a few Water Striders walking along on the surface tension.

But this year I found something new: Tadpoles. Thousands of 'em.

The swimming pool, I must note, is a hotspot for local frogs during the summer. I guess they follow the smell of the water, but once inside the pool they often can't find a level surface to climb back out. Lifting out all the stranded green frogs, bullfrogs and the occasional wood frog is a daily chore. I never know what I'll find swimming in the pool on a given day. The garter snake yesterday was a good example.

But I've never seen tadpoles in the pool cover before. Then again, I'm not quite sure they were frogs.

When I went to pump the water out, I noticed a toad sitting on the pool cover. Hmmm. The tads may be toad pollywogs, not frogs.

Toads live on land, not in water, I was reminded unnecessarily. Don't toads breed on land?

Nope. Toads are amphibians, and all amphibians breed in the water. Toads, frogs, salamanders, newts -- all lay their eggs in water. Perhaps it's an evolutionary throwback, to the days when amphibians' first set foot on dry land. All amphibians are drawn back to the water, from whence they came, once a year.

However, toads and amphibians that live on land don't always visit a lake or pond to answer the call.

Instead, "dry" amphibians often seek out temporary bodies of water for mating. Called "vernal pools," these temporary puddles are being identified and catalogued by the state of Massachusetts, in order to protect them from development.

Vernal -- meaning green -- pools fill up with spring rains and snow-melt, then the amphibians come to visit. That helps explain why the song of the Spring Peepers may pop up in spots that are bone dry by the middle of July.

Later, in the heat of the summer, those pools may dry up completely, but by then all the tadpoles and (um ... what do I call a larval stage of a salamander?) are long gone. For a few, short weeks, however, these woodland puddles are hopping.

Unlike frogs, which may spend most of the season as tadpoles, toads and others move through their life stages much more quickly. I've run into swarms of tiny little toads, no bigger than my little fingernail, as they scatter to gardens and flower beds from a vernal pool. But I've also observed that "frog" tadpoles which have sprouted their legs are nearly as large as adult frogs.

Toads don't have that luxury of time. Their breeding spot may dry up in a few weeks, so the tads had better get growing, and soon!

In a few days, the pool cover will be dried and folded up in the shed.

And in a couple of weeks, all the vernal pools around New England will be just as dry, just as dead, as that plastic pool cover.

(Incidentally, I did save a bucket of the little black tadpoles. If I'm able to raise them to adults, and get an extra dozen toads in the garden, I'll be a happy gardener indeed!)

Tewksbury summer track dates

As summer begins people are asking "when will the summer track meets start and when will the Tewksbury Track Clinic take place?"

The summer meets have become a popular event in the last 10 years with as many as 200 young athletes participating each week. The meets are low key with lots of events for every age group and ribbons awarded for places one, two and three in each race.

The track clinic is a week long experience for girls and boys ages eight through 14 during which the track coaches and former athletes at Tewksbury High teach the techniques of running, hurdling, long jumping and shot putting. Emphasizing improvement and fundamentals, the coaches make the week fun. At the conclusion, the participants take part in a track meet and a cookout.

The summer meet schedule is as follows:

Thursdays, June 20, 27; July 11, 18 and 25 at 6 p.m.

The meets take place at Tewksbury Memorial High School track. Event include 50 meters (age five and under); 100 meters, 200 meters, 400 meters, 800 meters, mile run and 4 x 100 relay. Age groups are six to eight; nine to 11' 12 to 14, and over 14.

The summer track camp, sponsored by the Community Education Department, will take place during the week of July 22-July 26. The clinic will be held at the high school track from 9 a.m. to noon Monday through Thursday. Friday's track meet will run from 9 a.m. to noon with a cookout to follow from noon to 1 p.m.

Those who wish to run in the summer meets may simply show up at the track on the night of the meet. Those who wish to be part of the track clinic should call the Community Education office at the High School: 640-9658.

The first home run contest was held on Sunday afternoon and after Shelly Maga, Artie Sughrue and Rob Santos couldn't go deep, Joe Viera stepped up to go yard twice to start it off.

After Viera, Tim Moran quickly

erased him from the leader board as he cranked four out - until his older brother Teddy got up and he smacked seven out including one that would have hit the side of the route 38 bridge had trees not been in the way. Moran won it as he now has the family bragging rights.

Wilmington girls under 14 soccer team captures tourney

The Girls U-14 A Wilmington Wildcat soccer team traveled to Danvers over the Memorial Day weekend and won the Championship at the Danvers Invitational Cup Soccer Tournament. This is the third championship victory for the team dating back to last Columbus Day weekend when it won the North Andover Tournament and the Strike One Indoor Tournament in February, 1996.

On Saturday morning the Wildcats, coached by Bob Paquin, met their Middlesex League arch rival North Reading and came away with a 1-1 tie. Striker Lindsay Bruno scored the lone Wildcat goal with an assist from WHS sophomore and team Captain Lisa Dellascio. In the final minutes of the game, North Reading, which was thoroughly outplayed during the contest, tied the score on a corner kick.

In the second game the Wildcats rallied for a 4-1 victory against Peabody after trailing by one early in the contest. Lindsay Bruno scored her second goal of the tournament. Other goals were scored by halfback Lisa Dellascio on a penalty kick, defender, fullback Liz Dorrance on a direct kick and defensive midfielder Karen Hardy.

Contributing offensively for the Wildcats were forwards Lynn Hurley and Christie Ross along with some strong midfield play from Alicia Paquin, Michelle Lemos and Sarah Lund.

On Sunday, the team returned to Danvers to face a determined, unbeaten Boxford team. With the wind playing havoc on through balls, the game turned into a strong defensive contest. Boxford could not penetrate the Wildcat defensive line anchored by sweeper Jen McNabb, fullbacks Liz Dorrance and Christina DeSimone and defensive midfielder Jackie Ingram. With only three minutes left in the game, Wilmington scored on a deflection off the Boxford sweeper for a hard fought 1-0 victory, the goal being credited to Lisa Dellascio on a diagonal run.

Halfbacks Alicia Paquin and Nicole MacIver on a diagonal run. Halfbacks Alicia Paquin and Nicole MacIver contributed with strong defensive pressure and winning the ball at midfield. This victory earned the Wildcats the number one seed going into Monday's semifinals.

On Monday morning, the Wildcats matched up against the Peabody Hotshots and came away with a solid 3-1 victory to advance to the finals. Two early goals by Lindsay Bruno and Lisa Dellascio paved the way to victory with Liz Dorrance scoring her second goal of the tournament. The lone Peabody goal was scored on a penalty kick.

Co-captain Lauren McCarthy keyed an effective midfield attack throughout the contest and any Peabody attack was thwarted by the strong defensive play of Jackie Ingram and Karen Hardy.

Monday afternoon the Wildcats saved their best for last, going up against the host Danvers Soccer Club in the final. Taking control of the game from the kickoff, Wilmington's midfielders and halfbacks along with fullback support continually pushed the ball to the attacking third of the field only to be turned back by the Danvers defense resulting in a scoreless half.

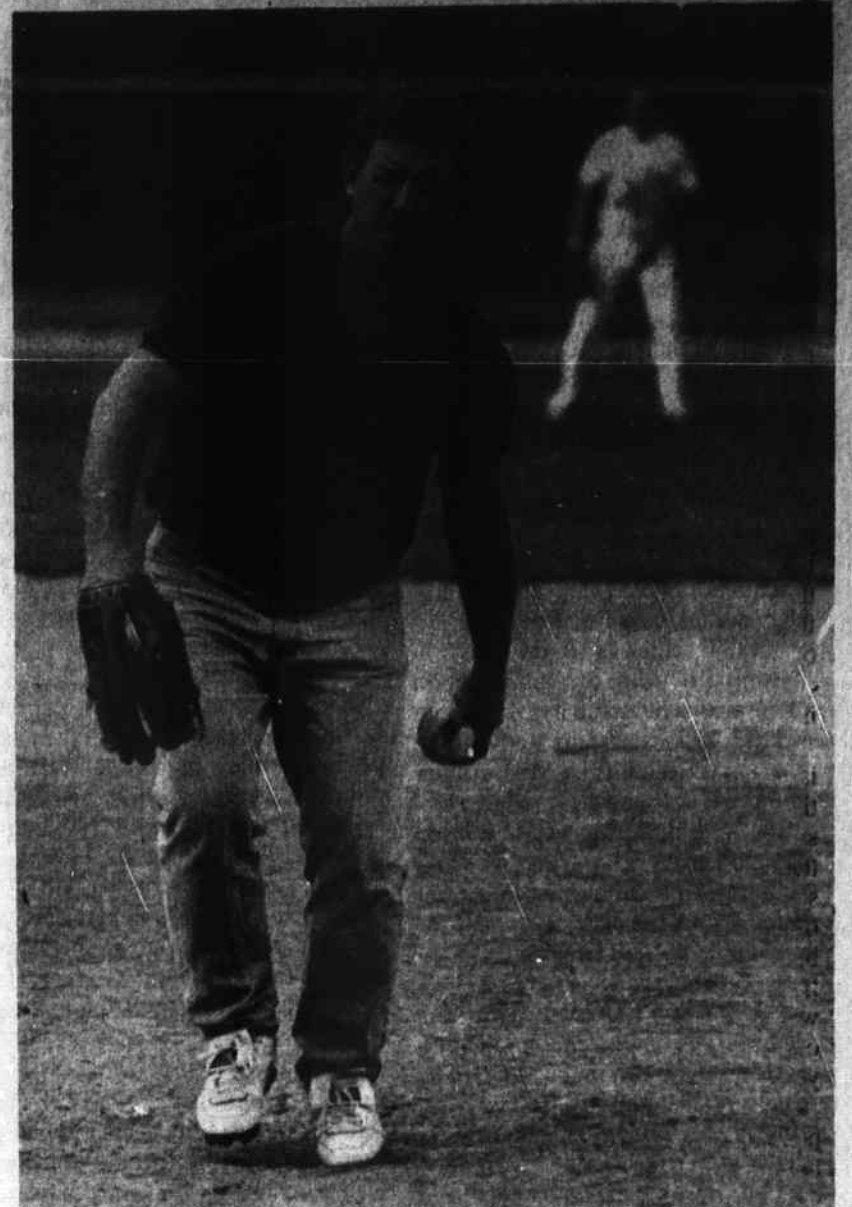

Lindsay Bruno scored the first goal on a beautiful feed from Liz Dellascio for a 1-0 lead. The attack continued as Nicole MacIver, Sarah Lund, Lynn Hurley, Christie Ross and Lauren McCarthy applied plenty of pressure with their outstanding play at the forward and midfield positions.

Lisa Dellascio, who demonstrated outstanding play and leadership throughout the tournament, scored again for the Wildcats making the score 2-0 and the Wildcats came home with the Championship Cup. Keeper, Meredith Cipriani played well in all five games in goal allowing only three goals as her teammates scored 11 as the starting keeper and Co-captain Val Cwiekowski has been out indefinitely with an injury.

Since Labor Day weekend, when the team began play, it has compiled a remarkable record of 34 wins, 1 loss and 3 ties, despite playing undermanned during the spring season. Coach Paquin and Assistant Coach Cwiekowski would like to thank all the players for their dedication and all the parents of their support.

The Wildcats conclude their home season in Middlesex League play with a game against Woburn on Saturday, June 1 at 9 a.m. at Shawsheen field. Drop by and support the team as it continues its quest to qualify for the Massachusetts Tournament of Champions.

Mets slug past Pirates, 20-10 in Wilmington Little League play

Minor League
Mets 20 Pirates 10
The Wilmington Minor League Baseball Mets got great defense from Devin Boyce and Derek Liberty in their 20-10 win over the Pirates this past week. Bill Nee pitched nicely closing the inning. Explosive hitting came from Corey McCann, Danny Pisari and Jeff Hodder.

The Pirates kept the game close in early innings led by the sensational pitching of Steve Ciano and a grand slam homerun by Derek Ryan.

Rockies 21 Reds 16
Good pitching by John Cuoco along with a homerun by Mike Gore led the Rockies past the Reds. There was also clutch hits by Mike Cullen and Dave DeMango.

The Reds had a homerun by Jason Monet. Dave Celli pitched well and Anthony Azevedo turned in a great game behind the plate.

Junior League
Bluejays 13 Braves 2
The Bluejays beat the Braves 13-2 thanks to a complete game pitching performance by Joe Ranno. The Bluejays also had great defense by Jimmy McGonagle and Dennis Sullivan.

Andrew Campbell both caught and pitched a great game for the Braves.

Braves 7 Diamondbacks 3
Coming back after missing two games with a sprained wrist, Eric Swiezynski pitched a complete game two hit with eight strikeouts.

Andy Campbell had two key hits with great base running and did a great job behind the plate. John Jamerson also played great defense at third base.

For the Diamondbacks, Jim Fennelly pitched a great game with good defense from Dave Silva. Reitchel had a key hit to start a 3-run fourth inning rally.

Major League
Yankees 2 Orioles 0

David Rappoli out dualed Patrick Cushing in what was one of the best pitched games of the year. Both pitchers were on with their fast balls. Rappoli faced only 19 batters in his six innings. He gave up two hits, and one was erased trying to steal third. Rappoli didn't walk a batter in the game keeping his base on balls total to one for the year. He struck out 15 of the 19 batters he faced.

The three non strikeouts were infield grounders, one by the catcher, one to Rappoli, and one to second. The lone hitters for the W.S. Cavanaugh & Son sponsored Indians were a leadoff single by Patrick Cushing and a fifth inning popout by David Aronofsky that fell in behind the second baseman.

Patrick Cushing gave up two runs in the first inning, one unearned. He kept the Yankees (sponsored by Rocco's) off the scoreboard the remainder of the game. Cushing allowed four hits, three in the first inning. He finished with three bases on balls and 10 strikeouts over the five innings.

The Yankee hitters were Craig Osgood, Kyle Burns, Mark Krasnyansky and Dennis DiCenso with the lone RBI of the game.

Yankees 15 A's 3
Craig Osgood and Kyle Burns continued with their hot bats, each going three for three and scoring three runs against the Janis Research Co. A's.

This was (Rocco's sponsored) the Yankees second meeting of the year against the A's. In what was expected to be a pitching dual, turned out to be a game of many opportunities as the Yankees scored 15 runs on 11 hits and eight bases on balls. The pitching combination of Craig Osgood (4-ip, 22 runs, 1 hit, 8 bb and 8 k's), and David Rappoli (2 ip, 1 run, 1 hit, 2 bb and 5 k's) defeated the A's and pitcher Justin Harrison.

This game did have its share of walks, as the Yankee pitchers walked 10 batters, and the A's responded with eight. Craig Osgood struggled early with control problems, but he managed to get out the first four innings giving up just two runs. He bore down in each of the first three innings, stranding runners on each inning. Dave Rappoli was a little wild, after pitching a great game on Sunday, when he hit one batter and issued only his second and third walk of the year.

This game also saw the return of Greg Bendel who has been sidelined by a broken arm. Greg drew a walk and took some good swings on his first game back. The Yankee offense was led again by one, two hitters, Craig Osgood and Kyle Burns. Other hitters in the line up were Dennis DiCenso (two hits), Mark Krasnyansky, Pat Graham (inside the park homerun) and Patrick Taylor each with one hit.

The A's pitched Justin Harrison, who was a little off today and wasn't helped too much in the field, with throwing the ball around early. Justin did manage to strike out 13 Yankee hitters. The A's hitters were Joe Luciano, and the hard hitting Harrison who hit a rope up the middle.

Defensive plays were turned in by Pat Taylor throwing out a runner from right and Dave Rappoli picking off a runner at first. The Yankees are 9-0 primarily because of the pitching of 11 year old David Rappoli (5 lks, 2 bb, 2 hb, in 22 innings), and the leadoff hitting of Craig Osgood (.731 OBP), and Kyle Burns (.583 AVG.).

Orioles 4 Twins 3
This game went right down to the end as the Orioles squeaked by the Twins in recent Major League Baseball action.

Jason Riley and Billy Sinopoli each pitched three innings for the Birds combining to walk three, while striking out 14 and giving up just one hit. The Oriole hitters included Ryan Gaudet (3 hits), Tim Rose, John Dell'Anno and Brendan Callinan.

Both Dan Liberty and James Meuse pitched well for the Twins in the losing effort as they struck out ten and gave up seven hits between them. John Conley got the lone Twin hit and Casey Duggan supplied great leather behind the plate defensively for the Twins.

Farm League
Blue Jays 16 Reds 10
The Blue Jays, (sponsored by F and R Auto), got off to a flying start against the Reds with the explosive bats of Chris Pedit, Chris Johnson and Ryan Quigley getting three hits apiece, while Ed Lyons made a great catch in left. The hard hitting Reds made a gallant comeback in the last inning scoring seven runs with the bats of Mike Thibault, Dan Ellsworth and James Janeiro, but fell short with the rally.

Royals vs Mariners
The Royals got by a stubborn Mariners team in a very exciting game. Big hitters for the Mariners were Mike McIntyre and Nathan Clapp. Andrew Fish played great defense.

The Royals key players were Don Cord and Evan McGuinness with key hits and Ed Lora hit well and was great in the field.

Royals vs Reds
The Royals escaped with a win over the Reds despite great Reds hitting by Mike Thibault and Dan Ellsworth and Kyle Sweeney. Rob

Auction to aid Chernobyl children

The Immaculate Conception Parish of Malden/Medford will be holding an Auction on June 4th at 7pm in the Lower Hall of the Church (at the corner of Pleasant St. & Fellsway East, Malden).

The Auction will benefit the Chernobyl Children's Project.

This project will bring about 100 children from Belarus (formerly part of the U.S.S.R.) to visit the Boston area for a one month stay in the summer.

All of the children are orphans between 7 and 16 years of age, whose lives have been affected by the nuclear reactor explosion which took place 10 years ago at Chernobyl.

Several families in Immaculate Conception Parish will be hosts to about a half dozen of these children. Funds realized from the auction will be used to cover transportation expenses for the visiting children.

The auction needs any new or usable items, such as crystal, appliances, gift certificates, weekend get-a-ways, tickets to sporting events, bottles of cheer, garden accessories, sporting goods. PLEASE! no clothing or damaged items.

There is no admission charge to the auction and refreshments will be served. The hall is wheelchair accessible.

For those who wish to donate any items or need additional information, please contact Janice Raymond 324-2551 or Virginia Ruane 322-2884.

Austin academic teams excel

On Sunday, May 5, in competition held at Buckingham Brown and Nichols School in Cambridge among seven schools from throughout New England, Austin Prep distinguished itself by earning six medals.

AUSTIN ACADEMIC TEAM DOES WELL

In a different form of March Madness, this one stressing academics, on Saturday, March 16, twenty seven Austin Prep members of the Austin Prep Academic Challenge Team competed at North Reading High School in the New England Small School Decathlon championship, for which 16 schools qualified.

In a full court press that garnered important points in all of the tested academic areas, Team Moderators Dave Gramling and Alice Farrell had prepared their squad well. Austin Prep won the championship by scoring 11020 points, outscoring the second place team, Framingham, by a margin of 520 points.

In this competition, four individual medals and ten certiicates are presented to the top scorers in each of seven exam areas. Austin received awards in all seven areas, with nine individual medals and fourteen certificates, the most individual awards among all of the competing schools.

Austin's twenty seven person team placed 1st in Science; 1st in social Studies (where the team's 2000 points out of a potential 2400 marked the first time a team had attained 2000 in any given test in nine years); 1st in Economics; 1st in the super Quiz based upon Fifty Years of the United Nation's at Work; 2nd in Math; 5th in Language and Literature; 7th in Fine Arts.

Winners of individual awards were: Jason Dowling (Woburn) Social Studies/certificate

Ed Kearns (Reading): Math/FOURTH

Rich Parr (Wakefield): Science, Language and Literature, Economics/certificates; Social Studies/SILVER and Super Quiz/BRONZE.

Dorothy Power (Tewksbury): Science/Certificate

Health Fair at Winchester Town Day

Winchester Hospital will host the fifth annual health fair during Town Day. Located at the main fire station, the fair includes a variety of free health screenings and fun activities for the family. Included in this year's fair are free "Heart Health" screenings to evaluate your risk for heart disease. The screenings include pulse rate, blood pressure, body composition and cholesterol.

Seatbelt and bike safety will be discussed with the children and other health related information will be distributed. There's face painting and "Mousecise," a fun exercise just for kids. There's also a variety of demonstrations such as STEP aerobics, Karate, Healthy Heart Cooking, and Country and Western Line Dancing. Screenings for Glaucoma, blood sugar and cholesterol will be performed.

Held on Saturday, June 1 from 10am to 2pm, the health fair is sponsored by Winchester Hospital, the Fire Fighters Union and the Winchester Board of Health.

hard-pressed to find 25 people in the audience at one time. The four items on the warrant were handled in less than 20 minutes with absolutely no discussion from 21 audience members in attendance. Including town officials, the total attendance at Thursday's Special Town Meeting was 39 - easily the lowest total in recent history ... The possible reason for the lack of attendance (other than normal apathy) was the noncontroversial nature of the four warrant articles

The articles dealt with a drainage easement, public ways, medical expenses, and snow removal.

Landlocked, in Burlington

The Burlington Board of Selectmen has unanimously voted to set Monday, June 17th as the date for a special Town Meeting on the town's landlocked parcel, located at the interchange of Routes 3 and 128, bordering Lexington and Bedford.

The Landlocked Parcel Access and Use Study Committee recommended considering the articles at a special session rather than as part of the annual Town Meeting so there would be an entire night available for debate, according to the Burlington edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle."

The study committee, notes the Chronicle, is recommending an 18-hole, signature-style golf course for the property, publicly financed, with no discount for residents. Ancillary recreational facilities - such as soccer fields, baseball-softball fields, a swimming pool, and bicycle and hiking trails - would also be included.

Among the items needing Town Meeting approval, according to the "Chronicle," are a change in the reasons for the town's eminent-domain taking (originally stated as open space) and protecting the town's water supply and design funding for access to the property

X marks the spot

"One town over, in picturesque and slumbering

Reading, an adult video and paraphernalia store quietly moved in less than two weeks ago on Main Street, prompting outrage among its citizens," note several editions of the "Daily Times Chronicle," in a story emanating from Wakefield.

"Last night, Wakefield took the necessary steps to ensure that stores such as Reading's 'Video Expo' will not be coming to town, or will at the least be highly restricted...."

"The running joke at the special town meeting Thursday night was - we still wouldn't have enough people to call a secret ballot if we wanted to," notes "The Stoneham Independent," in "Only 39 show for special Town Meeting."

"Three nights earlier, at the annual Town Meeting attended by over 200 residents, voters had reduced the number of people needed to call for a secret ballot from 50 to 25.

"Thankfully, the issues on Thursday's agenda did not warrant any controversial votes, because they would have been "The KidCare Photo ID is an important safety tool that provides parents with a convenient record containing all the vital statistics and a quality head and shoulders photograph of their child," said John Walsh, host of the Fox Television Network's show "America's Most Wanted."

Italian Festival June 1 & 2

The Italian Consulate in Boston, the City Office of Boston, Italian American Communities and Organization of New England, and several Italian Regions, are the sponsors of the 1996 Italian Festival which will occur June 1 and 2, in City Hall Plaza of Boston.

Many leading artistic performers from several important regions of Italy will convene in Boston to help the celebration through dance, dramatic performance, and music.

Boston main "piazza" City Hall Plaza has been chosen as the venue because of the importance of the city square in European cultural performances.

Among the many acts that will appear are the following:

•The Sbandieratori di Sansepolcro, The Flag Throwers, a group of ten performers from Tuscany. They wear the rich and festive costumes from the Renaissance period.

•Drum Bugle Corps, 15 flag throwers and 25 musicians performing traditional American and Italian marches.

The Val D'Aragas, singers and dancers in traditional Sicily costumes performing dances and songs from the region of Italy.

The Majestic Brass, playing pieces from several famous operas.

Woodchips

ANTHONY MANCONI

The months of May and June are traditionally when many high schools, colleges and universities hold graduation ceremonies. Almost everyone knows what an educated 'Brain' is. It's a person who has earned a BS, BA, PhD etc.

Not too many however know what an 'Educated Heart' is. It's a person who knows something 'Good' about someone and is 'Happy' to say it. And, he or she knows something 'Bad' about a person and doesn't say it. It is a sad commentary that many graduation speeches are forgotten the next day.

The short talk my mother gave to me and my brothers and sister when each of us graduated is indelibly etched in my memory.

It was, "as a little girl in Ireland, one of my chores before going to school was to open a gate and let a small flock of sheep out to pasture. Sometimes when two or three sheep went out, I would hold a stick about a foot up off the ground across the gateway.

"When a few sheep jumped over the stick, I would pull the stick away and every remaining sheep would jump over an 'Invisible' barrier."

"They jumped," my mother would explain, "because the sheep in front would jump." My mother would then point her finger at each one of us and say, "don't be like that flock of sheep. Don't do anything just because someone else is doing it."

Please, think about it and ask yourselves this question, "is it an honest, decent and honorable thing for ME to do?" Woodchips hopes that graduates and all of us remember the wonderful advice of a wonderful Lady.

One of the carpenters Angelo Ferragamo hired years ago was shingling the side of a house. Checking on him later, Angelo noticed that he was throwing almost every other nail away. "Why are you doing that?"

Angelo asked.

The hired carpenter explained, "The heads of the nails are facing the wrong way." "Well!" Angelo shouted, "don't throw any more away keep them and use them on the 'OTHER' side of the house!"

I was looking up my family tree and one of my relatives hit me on the head with a "coconut." Jimmy Quinno exclaimed, "Gee Chipper, I thought your family tree was a 'Crabapple Tree.'"

AMONG THE MISSING?

With some people, missing teeth may be due to the fact that teeth either did not develop or erupt. When this genetic predisposition for missing teeth occurs, the most commonly missing teeth are the upper lateral incisors or lower premolars. When these teeth or others fail to erupt, a carefully positioned x-ray can help determine if the teeth are actually missing. In some cases, they may be present under the bones and gums, but may fail to erupt because they are blocked by other teeth. If so, they may be surgically stimulated to erupt and orthodontic treatment may be needed to assist eruption. In the event that the teeth are indeed missing, they may be replaced with fixed or removable prostheses, or implants. It may make the most sense to move surrounding teeth orthodontically to fill the spaces, thereby eliminating the need for artificial replacements.

People with orthodontic problems usually consult an orthodontist concerning their need for treatment. For those seeking treatment, competent care will prove the most beneficial and least expensive in the long run. The best dental health program results when both the dentist and orthodontist work together to achieve a long term, healthful condition in the mouth. To schedule a complimentary orthodontic evaluation for either you or your child, call my office at...

Town

recently passed a tobacco control ordinance, which prohibits the sale of tobacco to anyone under the age of 18 as well as smoking by anyone, including staff, in schools, on school grounds or at school functions.

In addition to regulating compliance, according to the "Medford Daily Mercury," the ordinance prohibits smoking in municipal buildings, including private offices.

It also allows the Board of Health, Tobacco Control Program and police department to enforce the ordinance.

The ordinance went into effect on April 22nd, requiring all of Medford's tobacco merchants to obtain a permit to sell tobacco, thus making accountable those businesses caught selling to minors.

Meet this week's Key players....

#1, in Woburn
 The Intrepid Keystone Club of the Boys & Girls Club of Woburn has won a national award for its outstanding community service program: "Food for Thought."
 Club members recently returned from the Taco Bell Teen Supreme National Keystone Club Conference in Minneapolis, MN, where they received the annual award, sponsored by the Boys and Girls Clubs, and Taco Bell.
 The Food for Thought program, notes the Woburn edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle," emphasizes the importance of education and service within the club.
 "The Keystone Club," reports the Woburn "Times," "used three major fundraisers to implement the program: a weekly snack bar, candy sale and spaghetti dinner. With these funds, the Keystone Club sponsored the "Free Lunch Friday" program during the summer in which members received free lunches in exchange for service to the Club. In addition, the Keystone Club contributed funds toward the purchase of new computers and printing equipment for the Club. A final service component of the program involved providing assistance to the Woburn Council of Social Concern's Thanksgiving Basket program."
 Club members who traveled to Minneapolis included officers Lauren Franson, Brian Curley, Carla Beaudoin, and Jim Gracie as well as members Caroline Beckwith and Kevin Gerard. Advisor Rick Metters chaperoned.
 Other "Key" members include Michael Fowle, Shaun Briere, Lauren Beckwith, Shanel Wiitala, Kate McHugh, Paul Scribner, Ed Frias, Helen Dogiakis, Andy Litzenberg, Todd Peitzsch, Kelly Donovan, Danielle Moynihan, and Gary Santarpio. Bill McNeil is also an advisor.
 By some accounts, those who attended the conference didn't mind the 56-hour round-trip drive - and they are all looking forward to next year's conference in Denver.

New, in Reading
 Joyce Gatta, Dorothy O'Keefe and Barbara Pooler have announced the opening of Blackstone Associates on Summer Ave. Blackstone is an educational testing and career counseling service offering "education assessments, educational consultations and program development as well as advisory services for making career choices."
 "Specifically," they note, "we conduct reading assessments and/or learning disabilities assessments. In our report, we summarize the test results, the student's strengths and weaknesses, and recommend accommodations needed for academic success. Because we are involved with learning disabled students in the regular classroom (in the inclusion model), we have experience with programs, models and accommodations that can be made to give learning disabled students a better chance at success."
 "We also conduct career assessments in which we compare the student's interests and personality to his/her ability," they continue. "From this profile, we counsel students on the best vocational choices at this time, provide students with a better understanding of themselves as people, and give students an important tool in deciding their future."

 For more information, call (617) 942-7267.

Changing, in Burlington
 The Burlington School Committee has voted to change the amount of money it will seek at Town Meeting to complete renovations to the Francis Wyman School, according to the Burlington edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle."
 On May 7th, the committee voted to insert the number '$97,000' into an article it initially voted in March at no set figure. After studying the situation and the number of change orders involved, it settled for $75,000, anticipating also a potential 58 percent reimbursement under the School Building Assistance Bureau which is contingent upon approval by the Legislature.
 Work on the Wyman is due to be completed by July 22nd.

If you'd like to read about your favorite school, student or teacher in "School Notes," please send school newsletters and other relevant information to Phyllis Nissen, "School Notes," Middlesex East Supplement, Box 240, Reading, MA 01867. We welcome student writing.

"Mission Impossible", Short Takes

Mission: Impossible starring Tom Cruise, Jon Voight, Henry Czerny, Emmanuelle Beart, Jean Reno, Ving Rhames, Kristin Scott-Thomas, Vanessa Redgrave. Directed by Brian DePalma. Screenplay by David Koepp, Robert Towne. Produced by Cruise, Paula Wagner. Rated PG-13.

Cameras so tiny they fit into a pair of glasses. Pens that shoot poisonous ink. Red and green colored gum that explodes when folded together. Each of these gadgets and gizmos are even more fun than those found in the old TV series, as they are far more sophisticated.

The plot, though overly complicated, was at least written with some intelligence. It features Tom Cruise as a member of an elite CIA team who is suspected of being a mole, or counter-spy. He turns rogue agent in order to clear his name, and being one of the best in the business, you can be assured he's undertaken an impressive task.

There are some problems with direction and pacing, but what actually turns this flick into "Mission: Implausible" is a chase scene near the end that is so ridiculously fantastical, it breaks down a complicated, but believable world constructed by the filmmakers. You can almost accept a chase scene on the outside of a high speed, European train, but when a helicopter follows that train through a tunnel, it becomes silly enough to do this film serious damage.

The movie, like this top heavy chase scene, is out of balance throughout. It begins with an exciting mission starring Cruise and his team: Leader Jon Voight, Emmanuelle Beart, Kristin Scott-Thomas, and a cameo by Emilio Estevez. It is a well-planned, exacting bit of espionage that is tense and engrossing. Another scene, later in the movie, almost reaches the same sophisticated level of suspense when Cruise and his illegal team of spies attempt a break-in at CIA headquarters.

Director Brian DePalma knows how to milk these nerve-racking segments for every ounce of adrenaline-induced terror. They are fascinating, but occur in the beginning and middle of the movie, leaving the audience waiting for more of those slickly intelligent escapes into spyland and instead being force fed stupid train tricks. It's that lack of consistency that ultimately harms the production, because if parts can engross and thrill, you expect the whole movie to work on that level.

Cruise, in top physical form and known for becoming absorbed by his roles, is as entertaining as you'd expect. The unexpected comes from supporting roles, especially Vanessa Redgrave as the clever leader of a black market operation who purrs sexily at Cruise, yet always maintains an aura of domination and power. She provides a most unusual take on a role that could have been filled by someone simply barking orders.

Voight, whom we don't see enough on the big screen, brings depth to his performance, and the most interesting Henry Czerny, so memorable in the "The Boys of St. Vincent," appears as Cruise's boss. Burly Ving Rhames, a creepily evil crime boss in "Pulp Fiction," is cast here against that type as a computer nerd. The one disappointment is French star Jean Reno ("The Professional") who looks like a menacing thug - and that's about all he plays.

Short Takes

Heaven's Prisoners is a moody, well-written thriller with a cast full of intriguing faces. It is also of the ilk in which coincidence plays too large a part and the chase scenes are remarkably choreographed. Alec Baldwin turns in another intelligent performance as an ex-cop caught in a web of intrigue and danger when a plane nearly crashes into his fishing boat and he rescues a little girl. Though director Phil Joanou bungles the pacing, he does compensate by capturing the seamy sultriness of Louisiana and imbuing the production with a noirish patina. Flawed as this may be, it is never uninteresting. Rated R. ***

Spy Hard is funny, just not as funny as you might expect. Leslie Nielsen, along with Nicollette Sheridan and Andy Griffith, effectively send up spy movies and the entire action/adventure genre. Nielsen has well-honed his act as a goof-ball who takes everything too seriously, but the writing isn't sharp enough to keep up the laughs. This is enjoyable enough while it lasts, but is quickly, and completely, forgettable. Rated PG-13.  1/2

Flipper is a cute fish. It's nice to see Paul Hogan back, and his performance is sturdy and pleasant. The animatronics are certainly convincing and the scenery is lovely. However, if you need much more out of a movie, other than a large dose of wholesomeness, look elsewhere. This is no more satisfying than anything you can watch on TV any night of the week. Rated PG. **

USS Constitution Museum extends to summer hours

The USS Constitution Museum salutes the summer with new extended hours. The Museum will open daily at 9am and close at 6pm from June 1 through Labor Day, September 2.

Located in the Boston National Historical Park at the Charlestown Navy Yard and just yards away from USS Constitution, the Museum is dedicated to preserving and interpreting the heritage of the world's oldest commissioned warship afloat. Youngsters and adults can hoist a sail, take the ship's wheel, and learn to sail a square rigger. Interactive exhibits challenge visitors to man Constitution's cannons and relive one of Old Ironsides' fiercest battles, which she fought with the British frigate Java in the War of 1812.

The Museum's newest exhibit, "Capturing Old Ironsides on Canvas," showcases highlights of 210 years of the work of artist in residence Cheslie D'Andrea, who has recreated with the strokes of his brush the most colorful scenes from USS Constitution's past and recent restoration.

Admission to the Museum is $4 for adults; $3 for seniors, $2 for children 6-16 and free to children under six years old. The Museum's "Kids Free" program offers free admission every weekend and school vacation weeks to children 16 and under when accompanied by an adult.

The Museum's programs and facilities are accessible to the handicapped. For more information please contact the Museum at 617-426-1812.

JOHN AND BOBBY DANNEMILLER, SONS OF EILEEN AND JOHN DANNEMILLER OF READING, pour bags of pennies into a sea chest on the USS Constitution. They were helping to initiate the "Penny Campaign" to purchase sails for the ship to enable her to sail into Boston Harbor on her 200th Anniversary in 1997. John and Bobby are the grandsons of CDR Robert Gillen, USN (Ret.), who was the 59th commanding officer of Old Ironsides. Also participating was Meredith Beck, daughter of CDR Michael Beck, the present commanding officer of the ship.

Book available for women do-it-yourselfers

When the incessant drip of the bathroom faucet makes sleep impossible, when the alarm clock doesn't go off because the faulty plug has fallen from the socket, when a favorite photo plummets from the wall because the nail gave way then it's definitely time to get to work.

I CAN FIX THAT (May '96, $5.99), the second in a series of Harlequin Ultimate Guides, is a clear and concise manual for the woman with hammer in hand and tongue in cheek. It's a handy and practical guide to minor home repairs, maintenance, and improvements with sections on plumbing, wiring, carpentry, home appliances and car repair for the busy woman. The easy instructions are accompanied by humorous tips and anecdotes (which help soften the blow then you've just hit your thumb with the hammer for the third time).

I CAN FIX THAT reveals that an astounding 60 percent to 80 percent of home repair costs go toward labor. The woman who can perform the repair tasks herself can save a bundle. As for those projects deemed too daunting, the guide tells how to hire the right contractor and oversee the job.

When it's time to correct little problems before they become big problems, I CAN FIX THAT will be right there to guide the way to silent faucet's, ringing alarms, secure photos and a great sense of satisfaction at a job well (and inexpensively) done.

FREE OVER THE PHONE MARKET EVALUATION WITH A GUARANTEE!

If you are thinking of selling your home within the next 12 months, why not get an approximation of the market value of your property... right over the phone?

It's simple... call our office at 944-6060 and answer a few questions about the type, style, lot size, taxes and amenities of your home. With this information we will do a Market Analysis and call you back promptly.

Of course, a more accurate analysis of your property's value will require us to do an interior inspection of your home to check for the quality of finishes, room layout and several other factors.

This inspection has several other advantages too! Primarily we can advise you about what repairs to do or not to do! Often owners think they must do a lot more work than they really need to... but it's important to do the right things that will attract the buyer's attention!

A FIX-UP GUARANTEE

If we can't recommend after our inspection at least three fix-up ideas to you that you haven't thought of, we'll take $100 off the commission when the property sells!

Tips to safely organize and store items

Organizing and safely storing your gardening equipment ensures that your garage or greenhouse will be a safer, more efficient place to work. The Home engineers at Velcro USA offer the following storage tips:

If your garage is cluttered with winter equipment, make room for the lawnmower by organizing skis and snow shovels with VELCRO brand Bundle ties. Hang "Bundles" on the wall to free up floor space.

Keep the rake and other hard to store garden tools safely at hand. Attach strips of VELCRO brand Industrial Strength Sticky Back Tape to the implements and to the wall of your shed or garage. Use the waterproof tape to secure plastic sheeting over equipment that's kept outdoors all summer.

Organize small garden tools or seed packets in plastic utensil holders. Fasten to a wall or work table with VELCRO brand tape.

Tape a bird house to the side of the house so it's easily removed for refilling.

Your home: Q & A

What can I do now to insure that my air conditioner will work this summer?

It's always chilling to air conditioning experts when homeowners who want their families to be comfortable when hot weather comes forget to have their air conditioners serviced. Their advice: Now's the perfect time.

Simply stated, a poorly functioning system means more than just a hot, sticky home - it could be dangerous to the environment. Refrigerant leaks can damage the ozone layer. Fortunately, this danger can be avoided with a yearly check up. Here are some of the things a trained NAPHCC professional will do to check out your cooling system.

Indoors, he or she will:
Check the thermostat
Inspect and clean the condensing unit.
Check electrical connections
Check for proper refrigerant level

Replace filters.
Oil the fan motor (if applicable).
Check the compressor.
You don't have to let a broken air conditioner during a heat wave get you hot under the collar.

Getaway spot

Country cottage

At the forefront of this rustic country-style home, a pleasant, covered porch has plenty of windows and a wide, double-door. Inside, the entry opens to the formal dining room and flows back to the large living room.

At the center of the home, the living room features a flat beamed ceiling and a massive stone fireplace. Plan F-85, by HomeStyles Designers Network, comprises 1,800 square feet of living space.

The fireplace wall in the living room is the centerpiece of the home, and consists of a stone hearth with an unusual arched planter. The living room has access to a patio through a covered rear porch.

At the back of the home, the eating area adjoins the kitchen and provides plenty of room for dining and gathering. The eating area has a 14-ft sloped ceiling with false beams. The kitchen includes a pantry closet, a built-in spice cabinet and a snack bar that offers plenty of counter space for preparing and serving meals. Nearby, a door opens to the garage, easing grocery transport.

Easily served from the kitchen, the formal dining room features a stone-faced wall and arched planter niche which opens to the living room, and can serve as pass-through.

In the back corner of the home, the master suite is special. The private bath includes a separate dressing area with a dual-sink vanity and a large walk-in closet with built-in shelves.

The two remaining bedrooms have big closets and easy access to a full bath. A hall laundry closet is convenient to all of the bedrooms.

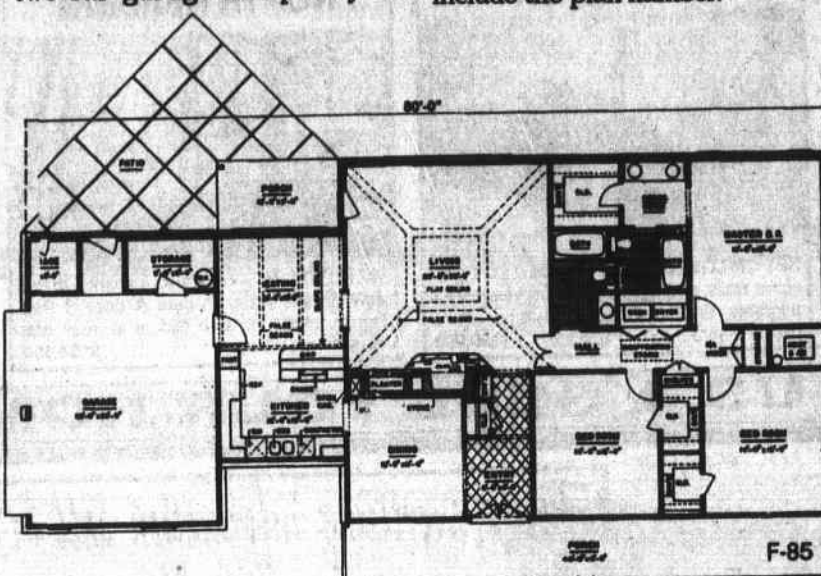

F-85

F-85 Statistics

Design F-85 has a living room, dining room, kitchen, eating room, three bedrooms and two full baths, totaling 1,800 square feet of living space. The plan is available with 2x4 exterior wall framing and a crawl-space or slab foundation. The two-car garage has plenty of room for storage, offers access to the backyard and provides 605 square feet of space.

For a more detailed, scaled plan of this house, including guides to estimating costs and financing, send $4 to House of the Week, P.O. Box 1562, New York, N.Y. 10116-1562. Be sure to include the plan number.

Realtors donate canned goods for Project Bread

The Massachusetts Association of Realtors (MAR) recently collected over 1,150 canned and boxed food goods to support Project Bread, a statewide non profit organization dedicated to ending hunger in Massachusetts. The food items were collected from consumers attending the MAR's First Annual Showcase of Homes, a free real estate show held in Marlboro, earlier this month, and will benefit a number of area shelters and food pantries, including the Marlboro Emergency Services Foundation and Rachel's Table in Framingham.

The canned good drive was the first ever conducted by the association's Charitable and Educational foundation, a support organization established by Bay State realtors four years ago to promote professionalism within the real estate industry and assists needy individuals and the community at large.

"We couldn't be more pleased with the homebuying public's response to this event," said MAR President Laura Shifrin. "Many of the consumers who came to the show could have easily been overwhelmed by the entire home purchase process, yet most were very thoughtful and generously brought several items to donate to the food drive," Shifrin observed.

Attendance at the MAR showcase of Homes was estimated to be between 1,100 -1,200 people for the two day program.
